Sara and Eric Murphy haven't even shown their unit to all her relatives yet. She wants it to be a surprise.

No doubt, it will be.

The Wayzata couple's motor condo houses a high-performance BMW M5, a Mercedes-Benz and a Porsche customized to be super-powerful by RUF Auto.

"It's street legal, but you can definitely take it on track, too," Sara Murphy said.

A pair of Ducati motorbikes, a bath, wet bar, TV and seating area round out the first floor. The Murphys outfitted their partial basement as a wine cellar, complete with slate stairs, coriander seed-toned walls and 100-year-old bricks that contractor Troy Swanson of Minnetonka Handyman and Construction Services had custom-cut to form decorative archways.

"We were trying to make it feel like we were going into the back caves of a winery," Murphy said.

"We were trying to do 'man cave,' a very masculine feeling, but still warm and cozy and a place where you want to come and take your shoes off and be comfortable. You know, a comfortable garage," she added with a laugh.
